SPEAKS AT LYNCHBURG

He Is Heard by Nearly 1,000 People and Has Good Reception.

ISpecial to The Times-Dispates, LYNCHBURG, VA., July 29.—In characteristic address, which lasted nearly an hour and a half, Judge Willam H, Mann to-night presented his claims to the people of Lynchburg for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the primary next week. The audience, despite the threatening weather and light rain, was large and enthusiastic, for a Lynchburg audience, there being nearly a thousand persons in the Academy of Music, where the raily took place.

Without mentioning the name of his opponent, Mr. Tucker, Judge Mann generally discussed his own record as a Democrat and temperance leader, while a brief portion of his time was taken up with answers to attacks made upon him during the campaign. Judge Mann denied without reservation that he had entered into any sore, of an agreement with the liquor interests of the State, dealaring that the alleged combination has always been at some place remote from the place in which it is talked of. He claimed that he had no bargain with the alleged "ring," but humorously declared that if it was the "ring that knocked the stuffin" out of him four years ago that he hoped he would get the benefit of the same thing this year.

He declared that not a drop or liquor that had been sold on trains in the State in ten years had been sold except without the legal right to do so, and, answering the charge that he had not voted to put a tax on buffet care except without the legal right to do so, and, answering the charge that he had not voted to put a tax on buffet cars selling liquor, said the fair way to treat him would be to tell the whole truth. The way to tell that he falled to vote for the amendment which would tax the sale of liquor on the railways of the State was to tell that he had voted for the bill that absolutely prevented the whole matter.

Closing, Judge Mann said he wanted the vote of every voter in the State, but if he had to sacrifice principles to get them he would not have the office. "I have made no pledge," he declared, "and if I am elected Governor I will be Governor of the State, and I am going to work for the best interests of the people of the Commonwealth, so help me God."

help me God."

Tucker at Portsmouth.

NORFOLK, VA., July 29.—In the open air, on the courthouse lawn, to a large and representative audience to-night. Hon. Harry St. George, Tucker discussed the issue of the gubernatorial campaign, under the handleap of frequently passing electric cars, which often prevented him from being heard. He was given close attention, and considerable enthusiasm was shown by his friends. His address was in a large measure identical with the one delivered last night in Norfolk, and was a declaration for local self-government, whether if be on the question of prohibition of saloons or compulsory education. The usual charges were brought against Judge Mann, he going further into his opponent's record in the State Legislature, as he did earlier in his campaign. He repeatedly referred to a book during the discourse, explaining that it was the Sénate Journal. The Mahone letters came in for a touchup, and the declaration that Judge Mann stood for "ring" rule and favoritism for corporations was generously applauded. He was introduced to his audience by Attorney J. T. Wool.
